In accordance with the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA), Clean All is committed to providing a service and work environment that is accessible and inclusive, free of various barriers for people with disabilities.

Definition of Disability

Clean All adheres to the term disability as defined by the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2005, and the Ontario Human Rights Code, which makes reference to:

- “any degree of physical disability, infirmity, malformation or disfigurement that is caused by bodily injury, birth defect or illness and , without limiting the generality of the foregoing, includes diabetes mellitus, epilepsy, a brain injury, any degree of paralysis, amputation, lack of physical co-ordination, blindness or visual impediment, deafness or hearing impairment, muteness or speech impediment, or physical reliance on a guide dog or other animal or on a wheelchair or other remedial appliance or device;
- a condition of mental impairment or a developmental disability;
- a learning disability, or a dysfunction in one or more of the processes involved in understanding or using symbols or spoken language;
- a mental disorder; or
- an injury or disability for which benefits were claimed or received under the insurance plan established under the Workplace Safety and Insurance Act, 1997”.

Key Principles

Clean All will strive to ensure that its policies, practices and procedures are consistent with the following core principles as outlined in the Customer Service Standard in the AODA.

Respect and Dignity: To ensure customers with disabilities receive the same respect, values and services as any other individual.

Independence: Accommodating a person’s disability mean respecting their right to do for themselves and to choose the way they wish to receive goods and services.

Integration: This means inclusiveness and full participation, which is a fundamental human right.

Equal Opportunity: Equal opportunity customer service is intended to ensure that individuals with disabilities do not have to make more effort or accept lesser quality in order to access the good and services that Clean All offers.

Communication

When communicating with a person with a disability, Clean All will do so in a manner that takes into account the person's disability. Clean All commits to provide training regarding how to interact and communicate with persons with various types of disabilities.

Assistive Devices, Service Animals and Support Persons

Assistive Devices

Assistive devices are any type of technical aid, communication device or other instrument that is used to maintain or improve the functional abilities of people with disabilities. Personal assistive devices are typically devices that individuals with disabilities utilize (i.e. wheelchair, walker, hearing aid, a communication board, a personal oxygen tank, etc.) that might assist in hearing, seeing, communicating, moving, breathing, remembering and/or reading.

Service Animals

People with disabilities may bring their service animals onto any premises that are open to the public unless otherwise excluded by law. Service animals are working and have to pay attention at all times. Service animals are also not to be touched, petted or talked to; when the animal is out with the customer it is working and should not be distracted.

If it is not readily apparent that an animal is a service animal, we reserve the right to ask the person with the service animal to provide verification from a regulated health professional of the animal's duty.

Support Persons

A support person means, in relation to a person with a disability, another person who accompanies him or her in order to help with communication, mobility, personal care, medical needs or access to goods and services. In certain cases, our organization may require a person with a disability to be accompanied by a support person for health or safety reasons. In such situations, any admission fees or fares, if applicable, for the support person will be waived.

Notice of Planned or Unplanned Disruptions in Services and Facilities

Clean All will make reasonable effort to provide advance notice of planned service interruptions. Any unplanned service disruption will be reported immediately through such channels as, temporary signage, communications via email, and phone calls where necessary. The required information necessary for any communication of the service disruption includes:

- The time, date and location of the disruption;
- Information about the reason for the disruption;
- Anticipated duration of the disruption;
- Descriptions of alternative facilities or services, if any; and
- Contact information for the responsible service area.

Feedback

Feedback about the delivery of services to persons with disabilities is welcomed, as it may identify areas that require change and assist in continuous service improvement. Such feedback may be forwarded by telephone, in person, in writing, by email, or other. Clean All will make best efforts to provide a response in the same format in which the feedback was received.

Feedback will be addressed within 21 days. Accessible feedback processes will be arranged upon request.
